Which Addresses her Majesty received very graciously.

Vienna, November 23. N. S. Divers Consultations are held here on the present situation of Affairs, and particularly on what Measures are to be taken to compose the Affairs, and settle the Peace of Hungary. As soon as Prince Eugene arrives here from the Netherlands, a general Council of War will be held to regulate the State of the War for the ensuing Year in Flanders. This Court appears somewhat dissatisfied with the Proceedings of the Pope, because his Holiness refused to assist at Divine Service in the Church of St. Charles, when his Catholick Majesty's Picture was exposed to Publick View; and we hear that Monsieur Albani hath received some Instances of the Resentment of this Court on that Occasion. The States of Austria are not come to any Resolution concerning the Proposals which were lately made to them by the Emperor. Letters from Buda of the 30th of the last Month say, that the Baron of Pfeferhoven, who Commands for the Emperor, had fallen down the Danube with several Sacks to visit the Post of Vicegrad, which is situated on that River; and that when he returned he took a Lieutenant and a Spy of the Malecontents on the little Island of Forsalne, with Letters from Count Esterhasi to several Hungarian Commanders on the other side of the Danube. These Prisoners were immediately conducted to Buda, and their Papers being examined, it appeared that these Letters contained a Representation to Count Ragotzki of the deplorable Condition of the Troops commanded by Count Esterhasi, and pressing Instances for speedy and effectual Succours. We are also advised from Raab, that twelve Adherents of Count Esterhasi, among whom were two Majors-General, a Captain, and a Secretary, had submitted themselves to his Imperial Majesty. Notwithstanding the repeated Advices which we receive from all Parts of the Misery and Poverty of the Malecontents, they still seem averse to accept of any Terms of Accommodation which have been offered by his Imperial Majesty; and the severe Edicts which this Court hath lately Published concerning the Confiscation of their Estates, have not inclined them to return to their Allegiance. General Heister hath lately possessed himself of several little Villages in the Mountains. We have no certain Advices concerning the King of Sweden. Her Imperial Majesty hath, of late, been frequently indisposed.

Falmouth, November 28. Yesterday sailed the Mercury Packet-Boat, Captain Green Commander, with two Mails for Lisbon, having on Board six ten new-raised Men. The same day came in the Lady Mary Magdalen from Ireland, laden with Butter and Beef, bound for Ostend.

Plimouth,
